16th century books on display

Mr. Bernard Gill, MSC head librarian, has recently completed an exhibit which can be found in Livingston Lord Library.

A new exhibit case has made possible a display of four of the old books purchased in Italy.

Dr. Joseph Satin, professor of language and literature, traveled to Europe last year on sabbatical leave and located an antique shop in Florence owned by Leo Olschki. Dr. Satin describes his shop as "the biggest and most famous antique shop in the world." In this shop, Satin found some important classics which he thought would be significant for Mr. Gill to order.

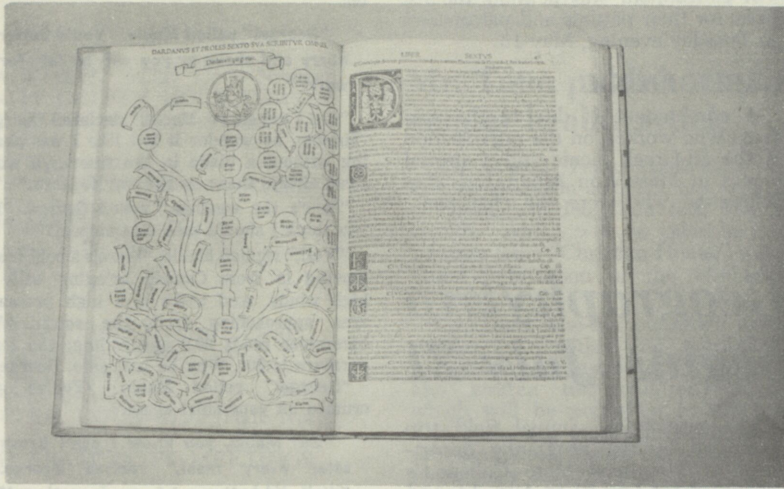

These books are mostly of Latin origin, and were published within a period of 100 years following the invention of printing.

These classics illustrate early forms of printing types and are examples of the printing art before Shakespeare was born. These books also show the important editors of 450 years ago. Some representative publishing dates of these books are: Boccaccio, 1511; Cicero, 1525; and Ovid, 1543.

The authors of the old books which Mr. Gill has received are Demosthenes, Aretino, Pindar, Aristotle, Maier, Cicero, Ovid and Boccaccio. "This is a worthwhile addition to the collection of books found in our library because they are very rare in terms of content and also because they are very interesting," Dr. Satin said.

"Genealogy of the Gentile Gods," by Giovanni Boccaccio, 1313 (?)

The annual MSC athletic banquet will be held Sunday, May 27, at 6:30 p.m. (DST), in the Dahl Hall dining room.

This group, directed by Maj. Robert L. Bierly, is considered by music critics to be one of the most distinctive musical organizations now making personal appearances. Capt. Wilmont N. Trumbull is assistant director.

The Soldier's Chorus, directed by Specialist 7 Eugene W. Coughlin of Detroit Lakes, will do a feature number at the concert.

All tickets are complimentary, but admission will be by ticket only. Everyone is invited. Tickets may be secured from Nels Vogel, Inc., 15 North 6 Street, or the Wylie Piano Co., 115 Broadway, Fargo, N.D.

Defense loans available

Application for National Defense Student Loans for the 1962-63 school year are now being accepted, says Dean of Men John Jenkins. Application blanks are available at the Student Personnel Office, M236, and should be filed before June 1.

During the present school year, 408 loans totalling $194,788 were approved. If a request for an additional allocation of $216,000 is approved for 1962-63, the college would be required to provide $24,000 in matching funds.

Therefore, Dean Jenkins says, $240,000 may be available, under the most favorable circumstances, for loans next year.

The college has anticipated the increase in funds in anticipation of an increase in demand for loans because of such factors as increased enrollment, increase in amounts of average loans, and increased requests for summer session loans.

Any full-time student may apply for these loans, Dr. Jenkins says. Approval is based primarily on need and scholarship. For students currently enrolled, whether they have a loan for 1961-62 or not, a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher is required.

All funds for 1961-62 have now been committed and no further loans for summer sessions are anticipated, Dr. Jenkins said.

"U. S. Public Opinion and Foreign Policy" will be the topic of Dr. William C. Rogers, professor of political science at the University of Minnesota at a convocation Wednesday, May 23. The convocation, to begin at 9 a.m., will be held in Weld Auditorium.

Dr. Rogers, who is also director of the State Organization Service and World Affairs Center at the University, and director of the Program on World Affairs in the Minneapolis Star, received his B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Chicago.

From 1943-47 he was assistant to the director of the Public Administration Clearing House in Chicago, while serving as lecturer on inter-national relations at the University of Chicago. From 1947-48 he was a research associate in international relations at the University of Virginia, and from 1948-49 he was associate professor of international relation at Western Reserve University in Cleveland.

Since 1949, Dr. Rogers has held his University of Minnesota position.

Dr. Rogers is the author of "Community Education in World Affairs" published by the University of Minnesota Press in 1956. He was formerly chairman of the International Relation Section of the Adult Education Association of the USA, and of the Committee on World Affairs of the National University Extension Association.

'God Needs Men' to be shown tonight

The French film, "God Needs Men," directed by Jean Delannoy and starring Pierre Fresnay, will be shown today, May 18, in Livingston Lord Library Auditorium, at 7:30 p.m.

This thought-provoking film concerns the inhabitants of the island of Sein off the coast of Brittany and their need for a priest. It seems that the assorted sins of the villagers are such that the priest, unable to make them leave the error of their ways, leaves them.

The villagers then persuade the verger of the church, one of the island fishermen, to take the place of a priest.

The main part of the film is occupied with the verger's attempt to justify what he is doing to himself and others.

The islanders want him to carry on business as usual. But he dares not bless the holy water, he is afraid to speak from the pulpit, and he trembles at the thought of hearing confession and granting absolution.

Eventually, however, he becomes so preoccupied with his work that he rejects the girl he is to marry and moves into the rectory. He has just been persuaded by his flock to attempt the last sacrifice, saying mass, when a bona fide priest of God arrives, and touches off a dramatic and stirring climax.

"God Needs Men" is a film which can give rise to many possible interpretations. It is an insight into the fundamental impulse of men to worship. It can also suggest that people are entitled to worship God in their own way. Perhaps the most thought-provoking question of all is: God needs men, Why?

"God Needs Men," released in 1951, was awarded a grand prize at the Cannes Film Festival, and later won a special award from the International Catholic Film Office.

'The Crucible,' shown Monday, deals with Salem witch trials

The MSC Fine Film Series will present "The Crucible" Monday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m. in Livingston Lord Library lecture room.

"The Crucible" is a drama written by Arthur Miller featuring Yves Montand and Simone Signoret. The scene is laid in Salem, Mass., in 1692, when the masses believed in witches and witchcraft. It tells the story of one citizen of Salem who chose to be hanged rather than confess to what he was not guilty of. The terrifying effects of fear and panic upon the personal and communal lives of doughty and honorable Puritans are illustrated in this film.

This film differs from others produced at its time because the story is an inquiry into the problems of authority, liberty, and panic.

It has its jabbing lines and forceful single scenes written with the vigor one associates with Mr. Miller.

Mr. Gerald Ippolito made the comment that this is "one of the major and most important movies ever made."

"Good morning, George, I hope you had a 100 per cent safe sleep," said Mable.

"Yes," mumbled George, "I dreamt I ap-peared on 'Candid Camera' in my red flann-els. Pour me a cup and a half of flavor will you, Mable?"

"What would you like for breakfast George?"

"Oh, I think I'll have some toast with the 70 cent spread on it. You can make 20 slices for just one penny, you know. And then I think I'll have some of that cereal with the toasty oat flavor. On second thought I'll have that other cereal—it's just a little bit bet-ter."

"George!" yelled Mable. "You'd better hurry and shave or you will be late for work."

"But I did shave, Mable," declared George.

"Hmmm, no wonder it felt like I was shav-ing without a blade in the razor. Oh well, I can always shave on the way to work."

"How's the weather," asked George. "Do you think I should take my raincoat?"

"Well," replied Mable, "there's a cold front moving in from Canada bringing with it high winds. And there is a high pressure area approaching from the south. The barometer reads 29.9 and falling; the tem-perature is 60°. Why be half safe, George?"

"George!" yelled Mable. "You've got crumbs on your shirt again."

"But Mable, you know I can't brush after every meal," replied George.

"Well, I'd better get to work on time if I'm going to convince the boss I'm on my way to regularity."

Suddenly the children arrive on the scene.

"Mom!" exclaimed Jimmy. "Did you know that Johnny still uses that greasy kid stuff on his hair?"

"Mommy!" cried Mary. "Thank you so much for washing my dress. It feels so soft. In fact it feels clean clear through."

Geography trip begins July 21

The twenty-first annual field trip sponsored by the geography depart-ment at Moorhead State College is scheduled for July 21 to Aug. 14, and will feature Nova Scotia and the northeastern section of the United States in its itinerary.

According to Prof. H. B. Addicott, chairman of the department, the field trip will cover much of Canada as well, and will include full-day stops in Washington, D.C., New York City, Boston, Halifax, N.S. and Quebec. Marie, Mich.; and Superior, Wisc.

The purpose of the field trip, as in previous years, is a combination of visiting and studying, and members of the tour will not only see cities, including historic sites, but will also observe natural attraction of the areas included in the itinerary.

Eight quarter hours of college cred-it can be earned by attendance on this tour, for those desiring such credit. Costs of the tour, including tuition, are available from Prof. Addicott at MSC.

Reservations for the field trip, which cannot exceed 35, are now be-ing accepted. Interested persons are asked to contact Prof. Addicott.

Book Review

MILA 18

by Leon Uris

Mila 18 owes its existence to Leon Uris' earlier book, Exodus. In that book he gave a brief account of the Warsaw Ghetto uprising as only an incident in the full story. Then he became determined to tell the story in full, and spent months tracing documents and interviewing survivors. This book is the result.

Although the character of Mila 18 are fictitious, the story itself is true. It is the story of a handful of brave, dedicated people, who, determined to keep their nation alive, fought the might of Hitler's troops, and, inevitably, lost. One of the few who did survive was Christopher de Monte, one of the few Aryans to enter the ghetto to fight with the Jews; because the woman he loved was a Jew. Another Aryan was Gabriela Rak, a Polish Catholic girl who gave up a chance to leave Warsaw for safety to remain in the city as one of the ghetto's few outside contacts, because she was in love with Andrei Androfski, one of the leaders of the Uprising.

Many nations fell to the Germans in hours. Poland itself lasted less than a month. And when at last the Ghetto was burned and the Fighters defeated and killed, a bare handful managed to escape through the sewers of Warsaw to fight on in other countries.

Mila 18 is not only the story of the battle of the Ghetto. It also covers the years which led up to the ghetto and the lives of the people involved in it. Not all of them were heroes, but they were all human, and in this book they stand re-created, never again to die. In fact, a word of warning: If you begin this book, you will not be able to put it down until you finish it; and you will never forget it.

Mankato State's Indians defend track and tennis championships and join Moorhead State in defending the golf title here Saturday in the Northern State's College Conference spring meets.

Coach Earl Meyers and his thin-clad Indians are heavy favorites to capture their 14th successive title. The Indians are also strong in the record column as they hold 16 of 19 league records.

Winona State, who was runner-up last year, will compete along with Moorhead State, Michigan Tech, St. Cloud State, and Bemidji State.

Preliminaries start at 10 a.m. with finals on tab for 1 p.m. tomorrow.

GOLF

Jim Kohout, medalist last year in conference play will lead Mankato State into the golf tournament slated on the 18-hole Moorhead Country Club course. "Skip" Adams, runner-up last year, and Don Rhoten, medalist in 1960, will pace the Dragon attack tomorrow.

The golfers will tune up in a practice round today with the 27-hole medal play set for Saturday starting at 8 a.m.

TENNIS

Mankato State, once again a supreme power, lost only one player off its title-winning tennis team of last year.

Michigan Tech could be somewhat of a surprise to those title-winners, however, as they have four players on their league tennis champion team of 1960.

All of the teams in the conference are entered with the exception of Winona State. The track and tennis meets are scheduled on the new Alex Nemzek athletic plant facilities.

BASEBALL

Moorhead State's baseballers are also set to host those Mankato Indians in a twin-bill here tomorrow starting at 1 p.m. at Matson Field.

Both teams currently share the cellar position with two conference setbacks without a loop victory.

St. Cloud is aiming to stay in the running for at least a share of the conference baseball championship, when it plays at Bemidji Saturday in a doubleheader.

But to overcome this the best they can garner is a tie for the championship. The Winona State Warriors have already clinched at least a title share by sweeping a twin bill from Bemidji State's Beavers 9-5 and 7-1.

The Warriors close their season on May 26 when they host our home-standing Dragons.

Jim Adelson, Fargo sportscaster, will be the guest speaker at the Moorhead State College annual athletic banquet which is set for Sunday, May 27.

The Minnesota Gopher football squad finished their annual spring football training with an intra-squad game last Saturday afternoon. The first and second teams defeated the third and fourth squads 23-7.

St. Cloud State won the Bemidji Invitational tennis crown last Saturday when the Huskies picked up 26 points to top NDSU who followed with 22 and finished in the runnerup spot.

It will be spring sports day here on the campus tomorrow as we host the Northern States College Conference tennis, golf, and track tourneys. Our baseballers will also play a twinbill with Mankato State's Indians.

Concordia Coaching Clinic to be held August 12-15

Basketball coaches Jack Gardner of Utah and John Wooden of UCLA have been named basketball instructors for the ninth annual Concordia Coaching Clinic to be held August 12-15 at Concordia College.

Jake Christianson, clinic director, previously named Darrel Royal of Texas and Woody Hayes of Ohio State as the football coaches.

'Mankato is too powerful to stop,' states Glen Cafer, head track coach

by Bob McAlpine

Head Track Coach Glen Cafer was asked about the track team's chances in the Conference Meet to be held tomorrow at Alex Nemzek track.

"Mankato State," says Cafer, "is just too powerful to stop. I wouldn't be surprised if they took first place in all events."

Mr. Cafer also gave a brief rundown on his six team members.

Robert Reger from New York Mills is "a promising frosh middle-distance man and has improved with every meet." Reger ran his best of the last weekend at the Bemidji Invitational where he placed 15th out of 40 starters in the mile.

Jason Spillum, a javelin thrower, was "our only point getter at the Bemidji Meet," says Cafer. "I expect him to place in the Conference Meet." Spillum is a sophomore transfer from Rugby and has thrown the javelin over 160 feet.

Jerry Lovell, a sophomore vaulter from Moorhead, "has defeated some of the top conference vaulters in previous meets," says Cafer. Lovell has also high jumped 5'6" this year. He will probably pole-vault around 11 feet in the Conference Meet, and stands a good chance of placing.

Marshall Shoquist, junior from Minneapolis, is a top sprinter and jumper. "I feel," says Cafer, "that Marshall has capabilities of attaining firsts in both the broad-jump and the hop-step and jump." Shoquist has hop-stepped close to 43 feet this season. He has also posted one of the fastest 220 times in the conference-22.9.

Robert McAlpine, sophomore from Port Arthur, Ontario, has been in a slump in the last few meets. Cafer says of him, "I feel that if Bob on a good day can duplicate his indoor jump of 11'10", he should be in the top placers in this event."

Demos Ginakes, a senior from Fargo, placed in the conference last year. He is now practice teaching at Mahanomen, but will come down for the Conference Meet. Demos has been training in secret this year, and nobody really will know how well he can throw till the Conference Meet.

Frank Torson wins two first-place medals at Bison Relays May 5

Frank Torson returned to the track scene and proved that he is still the best jumper in the area. Torson gained two first-place medals at the Bison Relays held at NDSU on Saturday, May 5.

Torson also set two records. He smashed the old broad jump record with a 23'6 1/2" jump in the afternoon. He came back that same night to hop-step over 45', breaking the old record in that event by more than a foot. His nearest competitor was Marshall Shoquist of MSC, who placed second to Frank with a 42'9" jump.

Torson, a graduate student, has been ineligible for varsity competition. His fine performance at the Bison Relays proves that he is still to be rated as one of the best jumpers in the two states.
